ANOTHER EXTRA SESSION LIKELY IN MISSISSIPPI

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 1. (Spl.)—A count of the cash in the state treasury, added to the prospective revenues for the next six months, shows conclusively that it will be impossible for Mississippi to escape an extra session of the legislature during the current year, unless some of the state institutions are classed and others allowed to go begging. Prospective deficits are attributed chiefly to advanced living costs. The legislature at its session one year ago did not take into account the stiff advances that have been made during the past 12 months, and practically all of the appropriations were made on the same basis as for the preceding bien had period.

Nearry all the colleges and elecmosy-nail period.

Nearry all the colleges and electrosynary institutions supported by the stats are running behind on their expense budgets, in spite of the most right economy, and by the early autumn will have exhausted practically all of the revenues at their disposal.

Gov. Bilho does not believe it is either possible or desirable to seek authority, through a referendum letter to members of the present legislature, in view of the fact that a new lawmaking body goes into power one year hefice, and would not be legally bound by any action of the present legislature.

TIPPAH SCHOOLS REOPEN AS EPIDEMIC SUBSIDES

BLUE MOUNTAIN. Miss., Jan. 1 (Spl.)—With the apparent elimination of the influenza epidemic in Tiponi county, which resulted in the closing of schools, all schools have resumed regular work, the public schools reopening Monday and Blue Mountain college and Mississippi Heights academy the following day, the general attendance being good.

The Tippah County Teachers' association will hold a public meeting at the county courthouse on Saturday, Jan. 4, according to Prof. John E. Pearce, county superintendent of education, the special features of the gathering being addresses by Frof. J. F. Cadenhead, superintendent of the Tippah County Agricultural high school Irof. B. W. Hampton, superintendent of Bine Mountain high school Prof. J. E. Brown, president Mississippi Heights scademy, and Miss Hurnet Jones, county home economics agent.

BOAR BRINGS $1,000.

FORREST CITY, Ark Jan. 1 (Spl.)

What is said to be a record stie of Duroc hogs for this section of the state has just been made by D. C. Webb, who sold the boar, Arkansas Defender, to Dr. J. B. Henrn, of Texarkana, for $1,000. Six sows were also purchased by Dr. Henrne for a consideration of $2,400. J. B. tookbar, of the Goodbar Shoe company, of Memphis, also purchased an Orien yearling boar, two sows and 11 pigs for which he paid Webb $1,500.

POSTMASTER RETURNS BLUE MOUNTAIN, Miss. Jan. 1. (Spl.)—Postmaster Will N. Guyton, who has been away on sick leave for more than four months, has again assumed general supervision of the postal service here, being assisted in the office by Ira Q. Hardin, assistant postmaster, and Hudson Brannan, clerk. No rural carrier has yet heen appointed to serve on R. P. D.
